Wald realized that the reason why those the engines and cockpit - seemed to be hit the least was because planes that had sustained damage in those areas were the ones that hadn't made it back to base. The data set was, quite literally, fatally flawed; it was the information that was missing that was of fundamental importance for making the best decision. The US military followed Wald's advice, and he and his colleagues are credited with saving many lives. Here's another example of survivorship bias, this time from a barn in Ireland.

There are estimated to be more than 160,000 farms spread across Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland combined. On all of those farms, you will find barns, and in some of those barns, you might be fortunate enough to stumble across a classic tractor like the Massey Ferguson 35. Production of the Massey Ferguson 35 in the UK and the USA stopped in 1964. If you were to strike up a conversation with a farmer who still owns one, she might well give the chassis of her Massey Ferguson 35 an affectionate tap and nostalgically remark, 'They don't make 'em like that anymore.' The fact that the tractor has survived at least fifty-eight years seems to provide evidence of its superior build quality. But wait - how long did the other 388,381 Massey Ferguson 35 tractors produced between 1956 and 1964 last before they went for scrap? Rather than build quality, it might well be the fondness that people in Ireland have for the little red tractor (Harry Ferguson, who developed it, was born in Ireland) that has led farmers there to hold on to their Massey Fergusons and take care of them as well as they have.

The message here is simple: be wary of stories about business entrepreneurs, actors, musicians, sports stars, special forces operatives or, indeed, tractors who are held up as prime examples of what it takes to succeed - particularly those who are highlighted as having taken irregular or unorthodox paths to success. Although plucky stories of the 'outsider made good' have compelling charm and appeal, we must be open to the possibility that many others exactly like them may have taken the same path with a different outcome.

- ① The production of Massey Ferguson 35 has been completely discontinued.
- ② Modern tractors lack the durability and resilience found in classic models.

- ④ The emotional connection to the inventor's heritage influenced the tractor's longevity.
- ⑤ Farmers nowadays prioritize nostalgic value over the actual utility of their machinery.

How to deliver pertinent scientific evidence to the public in times of crisis may depend on the type of crisis and audience composition (Liu et al., 2015; Park & Avery, 2018). Park and Avery's (2018) research led the authors to conclude that, during crises that present immediate danger (e.g., natural disasters, acts of violence or terrorism, transportation crises), people seek trusted and verified sources to ease their immediate concerns, thus turning to traditional sources such as television and radio. ① For other crisis types, such as public health and political crises, however, people are more likely to turn to social media where they can seek multiple voices and a variety of expert opinions, as, unlike the first set of crises, public health and political crises may be more subjective and less straightforward, and thus necessitate a deeper dive into supplementary information and evidence. ② In addition to the type of crisis at hand, Liu, a communication scholar, and colleagues argued that traditional and social media have different effects on different audiences regarding the motivation to follow instructions and recommended behaviors during crises. ③ The rapid spread of unverified rumors on social media often leads to public confusion and a decrease in the overall effectiveness of emergency response measures. ④ For example, although younger audiences seem to favor social media to traditional media sources during times of crisis, older audiences indicate a preference for traditional media. ⑤ Thus, both traditional and social media play a prominent role in delivering important scientific information to the public during crises.

Additionally, when the emergency does not threaten immediate danger (e.g., political and public health crises), social media becomes the preferred information-seeking platform for the general audience, not just youth (Park & Avery, 2018). Traditional media generally take on the responsibility of performing critical science reviews and authenticating the information shared with the public to ensure that the best scientifically based evidence is communicated to their audiences (Rehman, 2013).

But the park has more than one equilibrium. If you go to the park, I'd like to be there and we'll both be glad we went. If I don't go, you wouldn't want to go either, and we'd both be glad we stayed at home. Either situation is an equilibrium, although one of them makes much better use of the park than the other does. Conventional economics doesn't say much more than that, but Thomas Schelling does. You might remember, from Chapter Two, Schelling's idea of a 'focal point'.

Focal points are the little things that make a big difference — the difference between reaching one equilibrium and reaching another. If a local soccer team comes to practice near the playground of the park every Saturday morning or a group of stay-at-home parents arranges a regular trip at 3 P.M. on a Wednesday afternoon, that can create a focal point around which others coordinate. With the team at practice, the park will feel safe from muggers and there will be something to look at, so families will come along to use the park. Other families will come because the first families will be there; after the soccer season is over and the team no longer comes to practice, Saturday mornings can still be lively at the playground simply because everybody expects that they will be. A lively park playground can be created by a soccer practice that doesn't even take place any longer : That is an indication of how whimsically unpredictable these multiple equilibria can be. Yet while the outcome is whimsical, the causes are rational.

While parks are the clearest example, this story applies much more widely, to the intimate structures of city neighbourhoods themselves, why one location is for millionaires only and another, perhaps very near, is dangerous, boring and impoverished. The fine details of city design, coupled with individuals acting rationally, determine which neighbourhoods thrive, which wither - and even who lives and who dies.

They can also find expression indirectly, independently of the subjects involved, in the way various kinds of characters are positioned or treated in the course of the narrative, whether they are made central, endorsed, demonised, marginalised, or even conspicuously left out in the course of the story. These individual and narrative standpoints can in turn become fixed and ossified in the cinematic language, in formulaic narrative developments, tropes and devices, or stereotypical characters, of which more will be said in a moment.

As the set of cultural norms and categories taken for granted at any particular time, the present is normally more or less invisible to those who participate in it. It is the unthought background of their thought and action, like water to a fish, or air to a dove. In films, this background can sometimes become visible as a bygone present in a film that is not just historically but culturally dated. In the culturally dated film, attitudes and ways of behaving that have altered over time and which now appear as quaint, strange, 'incorrect' or problematic, are taken for granted by the characters in the film, and go unquestioned or are even happily endorsed in the film's narrative. The present is also visible in contemporary historical dramas that 'read the past in terms of the present', anachronistically importing modern attitudes into the past they portray. This is something that is doubly evident in dated historical films that read the past in terms of their present, where the anachronisms are themselves reflective of a bygone present.

Similar things might be said about science fiction film depictions of the future, insofar as the future that they envisage typically says a great deal about their present, and this is especially obvious if it is a bygone present, which will be reflected in quaintly old-fashioned depictions of the future. There is a sense of course in which all films are of the present, the present in the broad sense of our modernity, film being the quintessentially modern art.

[해설] 주어진 문장은 공연 예술이 여전히 대중에게 매력적인 힘을 유지하고 있다는 내용이며, 그 앞에는 산업화된 문화에서 공연 예술이 경제적으로 불안정해졌다는 부정적인 상황이 언급되어야 자연스럽다. ⑤번 앞 문장에서 경제적 불안정성을 언급하고, ⑤번 뒤 문장에서 전통 문화 내의 공연 생존을 언급하고 있다. 따라서 '그러나 (However)'로 시작하는 주어진 문장이 대조를 이루며 들어가는 것이 가장 적절하다.

2) [정답] ④

[해설] '그들은 더 이상 그렇게 만들지 않는다'는 말은 겉으로는 제품의 내구성을 칭찬하는 것처럼 보이지만, 지문의 문맥상 이는 생존자 편향의 오류를 보여주는 사례이다. 실제로는 품질보다는 아일랜드 사람들이 개발자에 대해 갖는 애착(정서적 연결) 때문에 오래된 트랙터를 폐기하지 않고 잘 관리해 온 결과임을 시사한다. 따라서 정답은 ④ '발명가의 유산에 대한 감정적 연결이 트랙터의 수명에 영향을 미쳤다'이다. ① Massey Ferguson 35의 생산이 완전히 중단되었다 ② 현대 트랙터는 클래식 모델에서 발견되는 내구성과 탄력성이 부족하다 ③ 살아남은 트랙터는 예외적인 제조 표준에 대한 결정적인 증거이다 ⑤ 오늘날의 농부들은 기계의 실제 유용성보다 향수 어린 가치를 우선시한다

3) [정답] ③

[해설] 이 글은 위기 상황의 종류(직접적 위험 vs 공중보건/정치적 위기)와 관객의 연령대에 따라 선호하는 미디어 매체가 달라진다는 내용을 다루고 있다. ③번은 소셜 미디어의 근거 없는 루머 확산과 응급 대응의 효율성 저하를 언급하고 있는데, 이는 미디어 선택의 경향성을 설명하는 전체 흐름에서 벗어난 내용이다.

4) [정답] ④

[해설] 지문에서는 축구팀의 연습이 더 이상 이루어지지 않더라도 사람들이 활기찬 상태일 것이라고 기대하기 때문에 놀이터가 여전히 활기칠 수 있다고 언급했다. 따라서 과거의 특정 사건에 대한 기대가 현재의 활기를 유지시킨다는 ④번이 글의 내용과 일치한다. ① 초점은 큰 차이를 만들지 못하는 사소한 사건들에 불과하다 ② 사람들이 공원을 찾는 이유는 축구팀 연습 구경 목적뿐이다 ③ 축구 시즌이 종료되면 공원의 활기는 즉각적으로 사라진다 ⑤ 다중 균형이 예측 불가능한 것은 비합리적인 동기 때문이다

5) [정답] ②

[해설] 글의 중반부에서 현재의 문화적 규범과 범주는 그 안에 참여하는 사람들에게 마치 물속의 물고기나 공기 중의 비둘기처럼 거의 보이지 않는 배경이 된다고 설명하고 있다. 즉, 너무 당연하게 여겨져 인식하기 어렵다는 내용이 핵심이다. 따라서 정답은 ②이다. ① 영화는 과거의 역사를 객관적이고 사실적으로 재현하는 매체이다 ③ 고전 영화 감상 시 현대의 도덕적 잣대를 적용하지 말아야 한다 ④ 역사 드라마는 과거 가치관을 보존하여 전달하는 역할을 한다 ⑤ 시대에 뒤떨어진 영화일수록 대중의 보편적 공감을 얻기 수월하다

6) [정답] ③

[해설] ③번이 포함된 문장에서 the institutions가 주어이며, 뒤에 나오는 depend on이 문장 전체의 동사다. 주어진 the institutions를 수식하기 위해 관계대명사 which가 쓰였는데, 이 which가 이끄는 절 안에서도 목적어(them)를 취할 수 있는 동사가 필요하다. 따라서 현재분사 형태인 sustaining을 동사 형태인 sustain으로 고쳐야 한다.

7) [정답] ②

[해설] 농부가 자신의 오래된 트랙터를 두드리며 하는 말은 트랙터가 오래 살아남았다는 사실이 그 자체로 품질이 좋다는 증거처럼 보인다는 맥락이다. 따라서 빈칸에는 ② '우수한 제조 품질'이 들어가는 것이 가장 적절하다. ① 역사적 의미 ③ 농업적 효율성 ④ 지속적인 유지보수 ⑤ 혁신적인 기계 설계

8) [정답] ③

[해설] 위기의 유형(즉각적 위험 vs 주관적 위기)과 수용자의 연령대(청년층 vs 노년층)에 따라 선호하는 미디어(전통 매체 vs 소셜 미디어)가 달라진다는 것이 글의 핵심 내용이다. 따라서 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은 ③ '위기 유형과 연령에 따라 미디어 선호도가 변화하는 방식'이다. ① 디지털 격차: 왜 노년층은 소셜 미디어를 피하는가 ② 현대 과학 교육에서 전통 매체의 지배력 ④ 왜 정치적 위기가 자연재해보다 더 위험한가 ⑤ 공공 비상 상황 중 주관적 정보에 의존하는 위험성

9) [정답] ②

[해설] 지문에서 언급된 '다중 균형'은 사람들이 서로의 행동을 예상하고 조정함에 따라 나타나는 다양한 사회적 결과(공원이 활기차거나 혹은 비어 있거나 하는 상태)를 의미한다. 따라서 정답은 ② '조정된 기대치로 인해 발생하는 다양한 사회적 결과'이다. ① 지역사회 건강을 증진하는 다양한 신체 활동 ③ 축구팀과 공원 방문객 사이의 상충하는 이해관계 ④ 공공 놀이터에서 범죄를 예방

하기 위해 사용되는 다양한 전략 ⑤ 야외 모임에 영향을 미치는 예측 불가능한 날씨 변화

10) [정답] ①

[해설] 현대의 역사 드라마가 시대착오적으로 현대의 태도를 과거의 묘사에 반영한다는 내용이 빈칸 뒤에 이어진다. 따라서 '과거를 현재의 관점에서 읽다'라는 표현인 ① 'read the past in terms of the present'가 적절하다. ② 역사적 사실을 있는 그대로 보존하다 ③ 관객의 미래 지향적 비전을 반영하다 ④ 등장인물의 문화적 규범에 의문을 제기하다 ⑤ 당시의 현대적 태도를 무시하다

11) [정답] ②

[해설] 공연 예술이 실시간 공간과 시간에서 관객과 상호작용한다는 고유한 특성과, 경제적 불안정성에도 불구하고 대중에게 지속적으로 매혹을 주는 이유를 설명하고 있다. 따라서 주제는 ② '공연 예술의 특징과 관객에게 주는 지속적인 매력'이다. ① 대중 배포를 위한 공연 예술 디지털화의 필요성 ③ 지역 스토리텔링에서 현대 서커스로의 역사적 변천 ④ 전통 문화에서 기업 후원을 확보하는 것의 어려움 ⑤ 라이브 공연을 편집하고 기록하는 미디어의 역할

12) [정답] ③

[해설] 지문은 생존한 트랙터가 품질의 증거처럼 보일 수 있지만, 실제로는 아일랜드 사람들의 애착과 관리 덕분에일 수 있다는 '생존자 편향'을 경고하고 있다. 따라서 살아남은 개체가 우수한 품질을 입증하는 '유일한' 근거라는 설명은 글의 요지와 반대되므로 적절하지 않다.

13) [정답] ②

[해설] 위기 상황에서 관객의 연령이나 위기 유형에 따라 미디어가 미치는 영향과 선호도가 다르다는 내용이 이어지므로, ②의 identical(동일한)은 different(다른)와 같은 단어로 바뀌어야 문맥상 적절하다.

14) [정답] ②

[해설] 초점(focal point)에 대한 정의가 나온 주어진 글 뒤에, 구체적인 예시로 축구팀이나 부모들의 정기적인 모임이 초점을 형성한다는 (B)가 온다. 그 후, 첫 가족들이 오면 다른 가족들이 따라오고 시즌이 끝나도 활기가 유지된다는 (A)가 이어지며, 마지막으로 이러한 현상이 다중 균형의 예측 불가능성을 보여준다는 결론인 (C)로 마무리 되는 것이 자연스럽다.

15) [정답] ③

[해설] ③ attitudes and ways of behaving을 선행사로 하는 두 개의 관계절(that altered ~ 및

which now appear ~)의 수식을 받는 문장의 본동사가 필요한 자리이다. 따라서 분사 형태인 being을 술어 동사인 are로 고쳐 써야 한다.
