| 워크북 8 순서배열 연습 (문장)

- 1) High school is not only where we study different subjects but also where we learn about life.
- 2) We are a group of students that get together every week to discuss ways to make a difference
- 3) I would like to share the story of how we participated in our community's international food festival
- 4) On top of raising enough money to make a donation, we learned a lot about how to create and carry out a business plan. Here is our story.
- 5) The first step we took was to decide what to sell.
- 6) Some of the ideas that we discussed included cotton candy, corn dogs, and lemonade.
- 7) Out of these options, we agreed that a lemonade stand would be the easiest for us, as we would need only a good recipe and a few ingredients.
- 8) We also found out that no other stand had signed up to sell drinks, so lemonade seemed to be the natural choice.
- 9) Once we decided on lemonade, we needed the perfect recipe.
- 10) we were able to find a simple one online / We just needed freshly squeezed lemons, sugar, water, and ice.
- 11) After trying out different variations of the recipe on friends and family, we decided on the final recipe. It would make about 1.5 liters of lemonade, which could be sold as five cups.
- 12) Boil the sugar and 1 cup of water together. Set it aside to cool.
- 13) Squeeze the lemons to make 1 cup of fresh lemon juice.
- 14) Blend the lemon juice with 3 cups of water. Then add the syrup from Step 1.
- 15) Serve the lemonade over ice. Add some lemon slices for decoration.
- 16) The main goal of setting up the lemonade stand was to make enough profit for a donation to the local children's home.
- 17) To maximize our profit, we needed to decrease our costs and increase our revenue.
- 18) The money that you make in business when revenue exceeds costs
- 19) The money earned by the business
- 20) The money spent by the business
- 21) Since we wanted to minimize costs, our first step was to find the most affordable ingredients and cups available.
- 22) As we were researching prices, we found that buying ingredients and cups in bulk would be the smartest way to go.
- 23) The chart below shows how much we could save by buying in bulk.
- 24) Now that we had found out how to minimize costs, we needed to decide on a reasonable price for a cup of lemonade.
- 25) We contacted a festival organizer to gather information.
- 26) we inquired about the previous year's drink prices / she told us that soft drinks had been sold for $1.50 per cup
- 27) Considering that freshly squeezed lemonade usually costs more, we decided to sell each cup for $2.
- 28) Based on our recipe and the costs of the ingredients and cups, each cup of lemonade would cost us about $0.70 to make.
- 29) With a selling price of $2, we expected a profit of $1.30 per cup.
- 30) Regarding attendance, we learned that the festival organizers were expecting around 400 people for each of the two days of the festival.
- 31) we could reasonably sell lemonade to half of the people attending / we aimed to sell 400 cups over the two days
- 32) If we could do that, our revenue would amount to $800!
- 33) this revenue wouldn't be pure profit / We needed to subtract our costs from it.
- 34) In addition to the cost of $280 required to make 400 cups, we also had to factor in the $6 we needed for posters and fliers.
- 35) If we reached our goal, we would be able to make $514 in profit. That would be a big donation!
- 36) When the organizer asked us where we wanted our stand, we knew that location was going to be important.
- 37) She sent us a map showing which foods were going to be sold at which stands / we chose an opening between the tteokbokki and spicy kebab stands
- 38) Who could resist a cool, sweet lemonade after some spicy and salty food?
- 39) Developing marketing strategies to attract more customers was the most enjoyable part.
- 40) In addition to designing posters and fliers, we also explored various online marketing techniques.
- 41) One of our club members suggested we offer customers free refills for mentioning our stand on their social media accounts.
- 42) We all agreed that was a great way to spread the word.
- 43) We also planned to install a photo zone and give coupons for a 10% discount to customers / who posted photos they took there with the tag
- 44) Mission completed! Our lemonade stand was a huge success!

- 45) Because of the hot weather, we ended up purchasing extra bags of ice.
- 46) We also had to give free refills and discounts to some customers, which we did as part of our marketing strategy.
- 47) Even with these extra costs / we were still able to make a profit of $479
- 48) Even though we couldn't reach our profit goal, we were happy that we were able to make a big donation to the children's home.
- 49) We also learned a valuable lesson in economics, a lesson we never could have learned in the classroom!
